D. R. ANTHONY, Chairman JNO. A. MARTIN, Secretary pro fem.

Firstly. We herewith present the first number of The parts of the country than it is here, (and we think Weekly Kansas Chief, from Trop, trusting that it that, with the exception of here and there a localmay make its visits weekly, for many years to ity, it is not,) Greeleyism is destined to come out and never weakly.

Our principal reasons for the change were given several weeks before our removal; and a few words about what we propose to do, may be in place now. We came here for legitimate business purposes, and to stay. We do not come to run in interest of any person, nor against any person. Our object is peace and good will, and ifwe ever depart from that line, it shall not Greeley, and have made up a Tribune club, which be for any intentional act of aggression upon We come here because we believe that at this place we can make our paper more useful and influential, and make it but when it comes to naming the men, it genernore to the interest of the people of the whole ally pans out that one Republican is for Greeley, County to extend to us their patronage. The with an even chance that he may change his County Seat is the centre of County business, and mind, when he finds what a crowd he is called from here the people naturally expect to receive their information upon County affairs. We expect to give all the County news of importance, n every part of the County, and to make it to the interest of every person in the County to subscribe for the paper. We may not be able to do this satisfactorily, for a week or two; for the hur- racy are by no means unanimous for Greeley. In ry and confusion of moving allows us but little time for it, and we have not yet got the lay of the land. But when we get our office affairs properly regulated, we hope to be able to issue a paper that will be satisfactory to the people.

We shall always strive to advocate the best in terests of Troy, and at the same time, those of all anthority of a Greeley Democrat for saying that the other parts of the County. A County Seat is, in a measure, the property of the whole County. Here the people are compelled to come to transact their County business, and it is to their interest that the town should prosper. But it is of far more importance to the County Seat, to cultivate ndship and good will of the towns and neighborhoods in other parts of the County. While it is natural for the public men of the County to locate about the County Seat, there are men in other parts of the County who are entitled to consideration. The offices and the pat ronage of the County should be equitably distributed among the various parts of it, so that all the people who are taxed to keep up the County, may enjoy a just propostion of the honors and emolu-

County Seat; and having always been an outsider, we claim to know something of the feeling of the people of a County toward the County Seat. not have escaped observation, that in a large proportion of Counties, especially in the red or jealousy of the County Seat, among the people outside; and the expressions, "County Seat Ring" and "Court House Clique," may be heard st every day; and as sure as a contest comes up on the County Seat question, the existing County Seat fights at a great disadvantage, with the chances largely against her. It is not because the people generally of the County Seat are any ty; but it is because the politicians and office seekers gravitate to the County Seat, and work early and late to take in the bulk of the spoils, leaving the other parts of the County out in the cold. The people come to lay the blame upon the County Seat; and for any extravagance or mismanagement on the part of a County officer, the County Seat is denounced for it.

We do not make these remarks as a lecture to Troy, nor for the sake of giving advice; but we speak of existing facts, learned by the experience of our whole life. We know that it is in the power of this town, and of every other County Seat, to establish such friendly terms with the whole County, that her strength, in matters that her ity and material prosperty, will be invincible. It shall be our aim to promote such relations with all parts of the County. Our long residence in Kansas has been wholly in Doniphan County; we have been intimate with her affairs from the beginning; and we have no other inducement than to labor for the welfare of the

As to keeping up the local fights and division of former years, if there are any disposed to do so, we wish them a happy time of it. Every campaign brings its own issues, and will force its own divisions. If John Smith and Richard Rollix had a bitter contest a year or two ago, producing a surplus amount of bile that was not expended at the time, that bile will not keep over till another year; but the partisans of Smith and Rollix will divide up promiscuously in the next contest, som on one side and some on another, regardless of all previous fass and feathers. The battle of Gettysburg could not have been fought upon the plans marked out for the battle of Waterloo. This means that, in the year of grace 1872, it would be folly for John Smith and Richard Rol-lix to stand, one on the field of Waterloo and the other at Gettysburg, and attempt to kick the top of each other's head off, to decide the question whether Jonah swallowed the whale or St. Patrick killed the snakes in Ireland.

About the local division in Troy, of which we it, and don't want to. We do not know when the equinoctial line runs that divides the two in terests; and for anght we know, we may be printing a paper on one side of the line, and takour rations on the other side. If any perwishes to subscribe for the Chief, or put in an advertisement, we will agree not to ask him tion is decided, and well known. We must say what we think, hit or miss. We cannot promise the Democracy to flatter them much, and can ask their support only upon the promise of giving them the general and County news. If they see fit to support one Republican for President, and we another, it is only a question of choice between Republicans, and there is not so much difference between us, after all. It is said that "he is our best friend who tells us of our faults." On this principle, we shall claim to be a true friend of the Greeky Democracy.

ore Convention has met, fused an fumed, and has done just what it was arranged ong since that it should do—it has adopted the Cincinuati Platform, and nominated Greeley and Brown almost unanimously.

Thus ends the old Democratic party, and does not save Greeley. He is doomed to defeat, just as he has been from the start; but the Democrati party has lost its grip, and can never secure it upon the masses of the people as in the old time. Is this the end for which it has been laboring and plotting for two generations? If the bones of the dead ever rattle in their graves, what a clattering there will be in the grave-yards that hold the remains of the great fathers and sages of the Demoeratic party! It will sound as if the ghosts are playing their own coronach with custanets. So It is like a man working for a life-time to build swapping it off for a yaller dog. And then they went seriously at it, and appointed a National Executive Committee, to manage the affairs of the party, the same as they used to do. It employs a lot of men to labor for its well-being, then iberately cut its throat in their presence. But it will look funny, after all, to see Greeley's areass rotting in the Democratic charnel-house!

Greeley Men in Doniphan Count. We have taken some pains to ascertain the condition of Greeleyism in this County, the extent proportion of the Democratic vote that he will receive. If the movement is no healthier in other decidedly languid. Here in Troy, we do not know of a single Greeley Republican, and some Democrats are most emphatic in their prophecies tha they will not touch Greeley. At White Cloud, there is not a Republican but would rather be called a rebel than a Greeley man, and some of the Democrats will not touch Horace. At Highland, the Democracy are pretty well drilled in for they will be trying to dispose of before the year is out. We have heard great stories about the number of Republicans there who are for Greeley; but when it comes to naming the men, it generally pans out that one Republican is for Greeley, with an even chance that he may change his mind, when he finds what a crowd he is called upon to train in. We have not heard so much from Iowa Point, but think the Republican strength there will stick together. About Fanoning, there is not a Greeley Republican, and some Democrats will not vote for him. In Wolf River, the Republicans have no renegades, and the Democrats will not vote for him. In Wolf River, the Republicans have no renegades, and the Democrats will not vote for him. In Wolf River, the Republicans have no renegades, and the Democrats will not vote for him. In Wolf River, the Republicans have no renegades, and the Democrats will not vote for fire level. In Wathena, we hear of a few Republicans, not to exceed half a dozen, who are for Greeley. We have heard nothing concerning the Democrats have heard nothing concerning t is out. We have heard great stories about the have heard nothing concerning the Democrats down there. At Doniphan, we learn of one leading Republican that has followed Greeley off, and hear that there are several others. We have the there are four times as many Democrats down there who will vote for Grant, as there are Re publicans who will vote for Greeley. We have not heard from Geary City, but the Republicans there are always straight. The same with refer ence to Marion Township. From Burr-Oak, we have heard but little. Ciphering the thing up, we are satisfied that the fight will not be as interesting even as a fight between the Republicans and Democrats on a straight party issue; and we believe we are safe n setting down Doniphan County as good for one thousand majority for Grant.

BRING Us THE NEWS .- To make a good local paper, we must depend, to a considerable extent, quest farmers in every part of the County to give us a call, or write, and communicate every iter of news of the least importance in their neighbor hoods. We want all the news-crops, improve ments, marriages, deaths, accidents, fires, storms floods, thefts, brag stock or products—anything, in fact, going in the neighborhood. Try it for a PUSHING THINGS.—The Republicans of Nemah County are determined to make Greeleyism look neaked in that County, if work can do it. There never were men more active in a political cam paign, nor more enthusiastic. At Seneca, they have a Grant Club of almost 200 members; they have a fine Glee Club; they are organizing a No. 1 Brass Band; and they have sent for a cannonto wake the natives. Very appropriately, they have sent a large club of subscribers for the Chief.

IT In this, our first issue, we must not forget to call attention to the advertisement of M. R. Fish & Co., to be found in our columns; and we ment. They have a clean, nice, new stock, and not being troubled with Groceries, they are enabled to keep a larger and better assortment of Dry Goods, Clothing, &c.; and we have reason to be lieve their prices will compare favorably with those of any Western city.

To it possible that the White Cloud Chief can think of moving! How it would sound, the Trey Chief! It can't be that Soi, would consent to a change of base or name.—Walnut Valley Times.

It was rather trying to loosen old footholds, and eave the scenes and friends of so many toilsome years; but we believed it to be for the best to do so. We trust the paper may lose none of its interest to old patrens, by the change. Doesn't the Chief look and read about as well as it used to?

During the New York draft riot of 1863, a howitzer, trebly shotted, was planted on the Tribune stairway, and men stationed beside it. ready to fire it off upon the first attempt of the nob to storm the building. What a fortunate thing that the attempts was not made. It is fear ful to contemplate what a large number of good Greeley votes might have gone down before that

OUR LOCATION.-We are located, for the time being, in the room over Shepherd's Drug Store, which, though not as convenient in every respect as could be desired for a printing office, is a pleas ant room, and answers our purpose very w.M. Here we hope to see our friends, whenever they may feel disposed to call, which we hope will b frequently.

This is as it should be me of the lawyers have at times complained that be was a little slow in rendering deci out he wants to be right before he gives an opis and honest Judges are not so plenty, in this cor-rupt age, that they can be thrown aside for triv-ial causes. Physically, Judge Kingman is not strong; but intellectually, he has no superior in the State. Kansas.

The reasons given by Mr. Miller for this change are embodied in an article of a column and a half in length of his paper, and the force of these reasons is at once convincing to every one acquainted with the situation of affairs. In a town the size of White Cleud, no paper can live without very material assistance from abroad. Yet by a re markable energy and persevenee, Mr. Millear did keep up his paper for more than fifteen long years.—Holf Causal Senting.

The last number of the White Cloud Chief has been published, and the first number of the Troy Chief will appear next week, under the editorial control of Sol. Miller, as of old. We are inclined to believe that Sol's reasons for this change are good. We wish the Chief every possible success in its new location. It is one of the Republicans papers of the State whose fidelity to the party is never doubtful, and it deserves the support of the Republicans of Northern Kanasa-Atchison Champion.

The White Cloud (Ka.) Chief will soon be removed to Troy, and be known as the Kanasa Chief. A big thing for Tryy to secure a man that has the plack and back-bone of Sol. Miller, and a less to White Cloud that can hardly be estimated.—Falls City Journal.

CROP PROSPECTS. Along the Atchison and Nebraska Hoad.

trports from all Station

Capt. M. M. Towne, the efficient and energetic Assistant Superintendent of the Atchison and Nebraska Railroad, recently corresponded with the agents of that company, requesting them to send a statement, carefully compiled, of the crop prospects in the country about their stations. We are permitted, by Capt. Towne, to make the following extracts from the letters be has received in reply to his communications. We have no doubt they will be of general interest to our readers.

W. H. NESBIT, of Doniphan, writes: "Brenner and McCrum both agree that there are from thirty to forty thousand bushels of corn to be shipped from this station; of barley about 25,000 bushels, and oats from 20,000 to 25,000 bushels. The wheat business will be small, say from 5,000 to 10,000 bushels."

to 10,000 bushels."

R. P. R. Millar, at Troy Junction, writes:
"There is still a large amount of old corn in this section. Spring wheat and oats will turn out a full crop, from the present prospect. There will not be any fall wheat to ship. I think that there will be at least one hundred cars of grain to ship from this station."

will be at least one hundred cars of grain to ship from this station."

J. W. REED, of Fanning, writes: "There are about 3,000 bushels of old corn in this vicinity; barley, 3,000 bushels; oats between 50,000 and 75,000 bushels. The winter wheat has failed; scarcely enough for seed. There is a fair crop of Spring wheat. Judging from the present appear-ance of corn, there will be an abundance this

T. J. VANDERSLICE, of Highland, writes: "In this neighborhood the corn is very good, considering the lateness of the season. There is fully as much planted, if not more than usual; yet I think the yield per acre, will not be as heavy, from the fact of the heavy, dashing rains, which washed the land badly, especially after the corn was about 8 inches high. The fall wheat is very short, and not enough for seed. What there is, the berry is very fine. Spring wheat is pretty good, but not very much was sown. Barley is very good, and much sown—more than last year by at least one-third. Oats very heavy; a great breadth of land sown, and if nothing happens it between now and the harvest the yield will be very heavy."

J. E. Moore, of lowa Point, writes: "Regarding old corn on hands at this point, the supply is limited. Probably some 10,000, or 12,000 bashels could be bought, if the prices should advance. The fall wheat is a total failure here. Spring wheat promises an abundant yield, but there was not as much sown as there would have been had not the seed been so scarce. Of eats and barley there is a good average sown, and they promise to yield well. Of rye there is not so much planted. Corn never looked finer than at the present time. My estimate of the amount of grain that will find a market at that point is as follows: Old corn, 10,000 to 12,000 bushels; Spring wheat, 12,000 to 15,000 bushels; barley and oats, 15,000 to 20,000 bushels. I cannot, as yet, give any fair estimate on corn."

C. W. NOYES, of White Cloud, writes: "Of fall

fair estimate on corn."

C. W. Noves, of White Cloud, writes: "Of fall

fair estimate on corn."

C. W. Noyes, of White Cloud, writes: "Of fall wheat there will be none for shipment. The prospect for spring wheat is good, but no great breadth of land sown. There will be more east than during any past season. A heavy crop of harley is reported in this vicinity. Corn looks well and the crop will be large. There are probably thirty thousand bushels of old corn that would naturally come to this market for shipment, provided prices justified."

Thos B. Bowker, of Rulo, Neb., writes: "I never saw crops look better. Wheat, oats and barley look aplendid, and are nearly ready for harvesting. Some of the farmers are cutting already, and all say they never saw a better yield. Grain stands thick and the heads are filled out splendidly. Farmers are highly elated at the prospects. Corn I never saw looking better. Take the whole country through and it will average from 50 to 75 bushels per acre. There is plenty of old corn in the country; several thousand bushels at least. But present prices will not induce the farmers to bring it in."

Chas S. Osborn, of Salem, Neb., writes: "The prospect is very good for an abundant yield is corn. Spring wheat and cate. There will is business at least. But present prices will not induce the farmers to bring it in."

CHAS. S. OSBORN, of Salem, Neb., writes: "The prospect is very good for an abundant yield of corn, spring wheat and oats. There will be very little fall wheat. There are in this neighborhood some 15,000 bushels of old corn."

J. S. WADE, of Dawson's Mills, Neb., writes: "There is at this time from ten to fifteen car loads of old corn ready for shipment, if the prices would justify. There is a good prospect for small grain for shipment from this vicinity."

W. Till, of Dawson's Mills, writes: "Winter wheat was nearly all frozen out, yet there is some little being cut now. The prospect for spring wheat was never better than now, and there was more sown this year than ever before. Oats, also, will be a very large crop; and corn, with the present prospect, will give a large yield."

ALBERT SHERWOOD, of Humboldt, Neb., writes: "The following is the probable amount of grain and live stock to be shipped from Humboldt the coming season: wheat, 21,000 bushels; corn, 35,000 bushels; outs, 30,000 bushels; potatocs, 29,000, bushels; live stock 100 car loads."

S. H. CUMMINS, of Table Rock, Neb., writes: "Corn, spring wheat, oata, rye and barley all promise an abundant crop hereabouts, and if the season continues favorable there will be heavier crops this season than ever before since the country was settled. Potatocs also promise a heavy yield. Winter wheat will be light. There is but little old grain now on hand. The prospect is good for heavy shipments of stock from this country during the coming fall, and farmers feel buoyant over the prospect of good crops."

C. R. BRYANT, of Tecumsch, Neb., writes: "There are in this country about 30,000 bushels of old corn. Crops never looked better."

R. W. BABRITT, of Sterling, Neb., writes: "There are in this country about 30,000 bushels of old corn. Crops never looked better."

THE STATE FAIR.—The time for holding the next state fair is approaching very rapidly, and we are informed by reliable parties that a large amount of work remains to be done on the grounds before the fair takes plack. Last year, a large part of the work was going on during the fair. This should not be, for it is very amoying to officers and visitors. Should the weather prove favorable, the next fair will be the grandest ever held in the State, and all parties interested should inaugurate their plans for needed improvements at once.—Commonwealth.

A murderous shooting affray took place near the city of Thayer on Friday, the Elst ult. The circumstances were as follows: Two horses were stolen in Chetopa township. The citizens of that township, to the number of fifty, immediately township, to the number of fifty, immediately gave chase, cornering the thieves in a dance house, near the Southwestern coal company's banks, three miles south of Thayer. Constable Ross attempted to arrest the parties, when a Texas desperado, named 'orchand, fired at him, the ball entering the stomach. The murderer then made good his escape, aided by several of the frail sisters, who composed a part of the assembly. Ross died of his wounds Sunday, leaving a young wife and child. The murderers were arrested in Parsons, on Monday night, and doubtless have, ere this, been dealt with as their crimes merit.

Sennter Pomerey on the Situation

Senator Pomeroy, who has been traveling in New England and New York, and has observed

Senator Pomeroy, who has been traveling in New England and New York, and has observed the drift of political currents, regards the canvas with complacency. He says that most of the prominent Republicans whom he has neet look upon the assured indorsement of the Cincinnati ticket at Baltimore with entire satisfaction, on the ground that a large number of Democrats will refuse to support that ticket despite that indorsement, while it will drive back to the regular ranks many Republicans who would otherwise have stood with the Liberals.

The colored people, he says, will rally to Grant ca masse, because he has insisted upon a rigid enforcement of the reconstruction acts, suspended the writ of habeas corpus to suppress Kuklux violence, and protected them at the ballot-box, while Greeley has softened toward their formerly treacherous masters, advocated leniency and annesty, and bailed Jeff Davis, when they thought that many of them should be hanged for treason.

In relation to the position of financiers and business men he expressed the same views heretofore reported as the opinions of others upon that question. Both at Boston and New York men of this class say that they can't afford a change; that Grant will continue the present financial policy, which renders business steady and safe; while Greeley, by imangurating a spirit of change, would produce fluctuation in the money market, to be followed by all its attending evils. They consider the latter unreliable, and that sharpers would impose upon and "put up jobs on him." In the hands of designing Democrats, they say, he would be worse than a Democrat, they say, he would be worse than a Bemocrat. We have our national debt and currency where we can control it, and we mean to keep it there. "But Grant's great strength," says the Senator, "lies in the fact that behind him are the loyal, fighting Union men, who saved the country and its financical credit, while behind Greeley are the odds and cuts, the discordant element of the community, the worst of the Democrata, and

Sid. Clarke is a candidate for Congres He is probably opposed to corruption. A District in one of the apportionment bills, last Winter, was called the "Pocket." The bill failed, but they forgot to take Sid. out of the pocket. There he will stay.

It is of no use to try to drive Greeley's au porters from him by showing up his miserable hand writing. To a majority of them, his hiero-glyphics are as intelligible as the ment elegant chirography in the world.
